

Chapter Five

The Signs

One day, I woke up thinking about all that has been going on throughout my life. I wondered what all the signs meant. Since that one night that I asked God for signs, I have been seeing more and more signs like crosses from Q-Tips to Sun rays. Now I thought that this was from the prayer but I wasn't exactly one hundred percent sure.

The day went on and I decided to go outside and then I noticed that it was very cool. The air felt good to me so I smiled from it. Then I decided to walk to a place where almost no one could find me. In the field were tall plants, so I went in there and I looked down and saw a plant in the shape of a cross. "What? Another cross? What is going on here?", I asked myself because I wasn't sure what was happening. So I bent over to get a closer look at the plant. Then I got up and left which made me wonder what those signs could possibly mean.
